Day 1 Arrival at Aizawl:

There are daily flights to Aizawl from Kolkata. Book your flight from Bangalore or wherever you stay accordingly.

Day 2 Go sightseeing in Aizawl

Or roam around my neighborhood – KV Paradise, Durtlang Hills etc. There is enough to do for day. We could go to Muthi Hills and repeat this A day at Durtlang & Selesih.

Day 3,4 Reiek: This is an hour drive from Aizawl and it must be the Nandi Hills, the Kalwarbeta of Aizawl. Everybody comes here. Of course it's more scenic and pristine than Nandi hills or Kalwarbeta. I haven't been here partly due to the closeness from Aizawl. The "I can come here anytime" attitude, you know. You can stay at the Government run tourist lodge. Hike up to Reiek hill. At Ailawng the neighbouring village, you can do caving at Khuangchera Puk, a 162m long cave named after a Mizo warrior Khuangchera.

As I haven't been to Reiek I am going to have Anand from Kolkata describe Reiek for you.

Day 5 Hmuifang: Hmuifang is a small village at the edge of a cliff with a wow view. There's a hill you can climb, a beautiful tourist resort to stay and lots of trails to explore.
