1 Manikaran Gurudwara

Parvati Valley, Rivers Beas, Bhuntar, Manali, Kullu, Himachal Pradesh 175131, India

Manikaran Gurudwara in the small town of Manikaran is thronged by devotees all through the year. It is said that the Sikh founder, Guru Nanak Devji visited Manikaran for the betterment of the people there. Once at the small town, his disciple collected flour and pulses from the local people for langar. Guru Nanak ji then requested his disciple to remove a stone from the area where he was sitting. The disciple did as instructed and was surprised.

2 Solang Valley

Solang village, Manali, Kullu, Himachal Pradesh 175131, India

A beautiful drive, scenic views of cascading mountains and the gently flowing River will make this experience a wee bit more special. A must visit attraction on your Manali trip, Solang Valley gives you stunning views of the snow-capped peaks and beautiful glaciers. If you are in the mood for adventure, indulge in some skiing, paragliding or exciting ATB rides. If you are here during winter, you can go for the intense 300 m ski lift or other smaller lifts and jumps. There are a bundle of surprises in store for kids as well. From zorbing to horse riding, the kids are in for a gala time. You can pack in a big picnic basket and find the perfect picnic spot for a wonderful

3 Gulaba

Rotang Pass Road, Manali, Kullu,

When driving through the narrow, winding roads of this spectacular hill station, stop at Gulaba and treasure some precious moments of peace and serenity. On the way to the famous Rohtang Pass, this scenic spot is admired for its abundant natural beauty and magical aura. The view of the majestic snow capped mountains, the swirling Beas River and the small grasslands simply add charm to the area. Named after Raja Gulab Singh of Kashmir who camped here whilst invading China through this area, Gulaba is slowly gaining popularity. The road to Gulaba opens only during the summer months.

4 Hidimba Temple

Dhoongri, Manali, Kullu, Himachal Pradesh 175131, India

pagoda style temple is a sight to behold. Away from the hustle bustle of the main market, the temple is soaked in absolute peace and serenity. You will be charmed by the sheer art of amazing stone carvings that depict local deities, plants and various animals at Hidimba Devi Temple. The stone carving inside the temple had naturally sprung up from earth and the structure is made around it. Devoted to Hidimba Devi, one of its kind temple is flocked by devotees all the year. Tracing back the origin, it was constructed by Maharaja Bahadur Singh during 1552. The temple also serves as a venue to local weddings, so if you're lucky,
